With an NBA point spread prediction, you're not necessarily predicting who will win the match.

When betting the underdog on the point spread, that team can still lose, but cover the spread.

With NBA point spread predictions the lines change rather than the odds, the majority of odds in this market will be around -110, which is much more viable than some of the -650 money line odds you'd see in the NBA.

NBA Over/Under (Totals) Predictions

With an NBA over/under prediction you're not betting on the outcome of the match, but instead whether there will be over or under a certain number of points, as set by the sportsbooks.

From best of seven quarterfinals matchups to the NBA Championship Finals, there's nothing quite like the excitement of game seven in the series.
